

Banking and Financial Services

Financial services entities, from community banks to global financial services companies, turn to Seigfreid Bingham for its unique blend of experience, depth, and perspective in transaction, financing, lending, enforcement, and recovery. Our Attorneys provide effective counsel through the market's ups and downs.

Seigfreid Bingham's Banking and Financial Services practice offers one-stop shopping for highly complex financings, deal execution, and legal advice to the financial sector, including banks, corporate borrowers, and non-bank financial institutions and their holding companies. Our attorneys serve as trusted advisors on a broad range of services tailored to meet the needs of financial institutions, including transactional work, asset-based lending, real estate lending, secured financing, loan restructurings, collateral recovery, debtor-in-possession financing, enforcement, workouts, and litigation advisory.

Our attorneys serve as strategic partners in the negotiation and drafting of transaction documents, including real estate loans, collateralized loans, loan agreements, asset agreements, purchase agreements, and sale agreements; and the documentation of mergers and acquisitions, while also advising clients on corporate finance matters involving multi-tier equity and debt financing. We also provide advisory services, helping clients navigate complex financial transactions and strategic decisions, and offer advice on business strategies, risk management, and corporate governance.

Within this group, our dedicated Creditor Rights team provides aggressive and innovative enforcement and workouts to financial institutions, corporate creditors, and individual creditors. Our attorneys guide our clients through contract breaches, issues arising from defaults or disputes over loan terms, pursuit of receivership remedies, foreclosure of real property and personal property collateral, bankruptcy filings by borrowers, forbearance/standstill agreements, restructurings, defending actions brought against financial institutions for lender liability, wrongful foreclosure, and other loan-related matters.
