

Intellectual Property Litigation

Seigfreid Bingham's Intellectual Property Litigation practice group helps businesses protect and enforce their most valuable assets: their ideas, innovations, and brands. Our attorneys represent clients in disputes involving patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets, licensing agreements, unfair competition, and false advertising.

Whether defending against infringement claims or pursuing enforcement actions, our team is skilled at navigating the technical and legal complexities that intellectual property disputes present. We work closely with clients to understand their business objectives and develop litigation strategies that safeguard their competitive edge.

In addition to courtroom advocacy, we counsel clients on risk management and proactive measures to reduce exposure to future disputes. With a combination of legal acumen, business insight, and industry knowledge, we deliver practical solutions that safeguard our clients' intellectual property rights and foster their long-term success.
