Chris Tillery Featured on the Legal Growth Podcast

Seigfreid Bingham attorney Chris Tillery was recently featured on the Legal Growth Podcast for an in?depth conversation exploring leadership, professional growth, and the evolving landscape of legal practice.

In the episode, “Leading with Perspective: A Conversation with Litigator Chris Tillery,” Chris discussed the experiences that shaped his path from associate to shareholder, including how an unexpected stint on jury duty inspired his legal career and how early work in the restaurant industry helped develop humility, people skills, and adaptability that now define his practice.

Chris also reflected on broader changes within the profession—from generational shifts to the impact of remote work and emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence (AI), and offered practical guidance for attorneys navigating today’s rapidly changing legal environment.

To view and listen to the full podcast, click here. The podcast can also be accessed on Spotify and Apple Music.