Mark Opara Provides Insights to Students at the UMKC School of Law

Seigfreid Bingham attorney Mark Opara recently guest-lectured in a Health Law course at the University of Missouri-Kansas City (UMKC) School of Law.

Students had the unique opportunity to gain firsthand insights into the complexities of health law. Mark's lecture featured discussion on the fraud and abuse legal landscape of healthcare, offering students a real-world perspective into the area of law.

As a UMKC Law Alum, Mark was pleased to return to his alma mater and connect with the current law students.

To learn more, please click here.