Rachel Sterbenz Appointed to Board of the National Museum of Toys and Miniatures

Seigfreid Bingham is pleased to announce that attorney Rachel Sterbenz has been appointed to the Board of The National Museum of Toys and Miniatures, where she concurrently serves as Board Secretary.

Located on the University of Missouri–Kansas City (UMKC) campus, the National Museum of Toys and Miniatures is a unique part of the Kansas City arts community. As a UMKC School of Law graduate, Rachel is committed to giving back and supporting the Kansas City community.

Rachel brings a strong blend of legal insight, business acumen, and community commitment to these leadership roles. Her appointment reflects the Museum’s continued growth and its focus on strengthening community engagement through experienced local leadership.

To learn more, please click here.