Seigfreid Bingham announces leadership changes

Nov 1, 2018 Kansas City – Seigfreid Bingham, P.C. announces two new leaders of the firm's Executive Committee as result of a recent election. Joining the Executive Committee are shareholders Rachel Baker and Katie Zogleman, who are joining current members Lance Formwalt, Greg Gerstner, Heather Jones, and CEO Steve Kyle.

Rachel Baker, a trial attorney for more than 20 years, chairs the Employment Law practice group, and focuses on complex litigation matters, primarily in the Transportation Industry. Katie Zogleman, a corporate attorney, chairs the Intellectual Property and Data, Privacy and Technology practices. She also focuses on Mergers & Acquisitions, Commercial Lending, and general business law. Tim Fisher a corporate shareholder, stepped down after serving 15 years in executive leadership.