Seigfreid Bingham names three new shareholders

October 1, 2017 Kansas City – Seigfreid Bingham is proud to announce three new shareholders of the firm. John Fuchs, corporate attorney, joined firm in 2012 after graduating from the University of Virginia School of Law. His practice encompasses technology, data, and privacy, intellectual property, mergers & acquisitions, among others, in the Equipment Dealer, Health Care, and Sports & Entertainment industries. Greg Whiston has worked as a member a member of the firm's Trial and Dispute Resolution Group since graduating from the University of Missouri – Kansas City School of Law in 2012. His practice focuses on real estate and construction litigation. Chris Tillery joined Seigfreid Bingham in 2015 and is a graduate of the University of Kansas School of Law. Chris has represented a variety of business and commercial clients as defense counsel in the areas of business and commercial litigation, employment discrimination and retaliation, construction defect and design error, and medical malpractice. Seigfreid Bingham, with 48 attorneys and 30 shareholders, is one of the top 10 biggest law firms in Kansas City.