

Sports and Entertainment Law

Sports and entertainment organizations have unique legal needs and need unique attorneys.

The Seigfreid Bingham Sports and Entertainment Group is specifically designed to counsel teams, leagues, universities, conferences, and entertainment venues.

The attorneys at Seigfreid Bingham understand that clients have unique needs and face business decisions that involve more than just legal review. These unique needs require our attorneys to stay on the cutting edge for legal concerns and risk assessment/risk management issues. Being proactive and able to adapt to our clients' individual needs are two traits we pride ourselves on.

We have developed a distinct representation in both our clients' actual business operations and in the factors that surround our clients' decision-making. Through proactive representation of our clients, our Sports and Entertainment Group has developed expertise in the wide variety of head injury/concussion matters including representing clients in the NFL and NCAA concussion litigation in state and federal court. Our experience and knowledge of this area of the law allows us to better serve our clients as they move forward through proactive risk management strategies, enhanced protocols to improve and document player safety initiatives, and connecting our clients with third parties who can effectively assist them with specific risk management issues as they continue to operate. We also offer a service titled "Empower U" for NCAA conferences and institutions to provide educational resources and navigation through the new laws and rules regulating Name, Image, and Likeness compensation for student-athletes.

We truly understand your business revenue sources, opportunities, and risks in entertainment, professional sports, collegiate sports, and industry venues. You can count on us to develop original and creative solutions to maximize your interests and goals.

The Kansas City Chiefs Football Club has been with Seigfreid Bingham since the firm's inception in 1974. We have drafted and negotiated contracts in every aspect of the organization's business operations and developed risk management solutions to ongoing challenges. Further, as the tenant and manager of a major NFL football stadium, the organization calls on our sports and entertainment
