

Transportation Law

Our transportation attorneys support busy motor carriers and trucking equipment dealerships seeking full-service legal counsel.

The Seigfreid Bingham Transportation Group offers experienced legal representation in everything from your day-to-day operations to your most difficult decisions. We serve a variety of companies in the industry: from businesses with only a few trucks to some of the largest trucking organizations in the Midwest. Unlike other law firms that only practice in one or two areas, we provide a wide array of legal services which allows our clients to remain protected in litigation, compliant with regulations, and well documented.

Furthermore, we have worked in the transportation industry for years. We know you value a working knowledge of your industry, long-term relationships, and quick turnaround. We know what you need in an attorney, which is why we pride ourselves on being available, good communicators who provide practical advice so you can make wise decisions.

As a result of our offerings and exceptional judgment, we are a business partner who can provide practical and robust solutions that elicit results.

We have represented and defended trucking companies and dealerships in states including, but not limited to, Missouri, Kansas, Georgia, Colorado, Texas, Arkansas, Ohio, Illinois, California, Tennessee, Florida, Nebraska, New York, Oklahoma, and Indiana.
